

CABF Publication Committee Report

September 29, 2023

The CABF Publications committee works together to support the shared ministry of the CABF through The Bulletin, our triannual publication for individual members, churches and readers of interest. The Winter, Spring and Fall issues for 2023 were all printed and distributed by Gaspereau Press Ltd, Nova Scotia, and featured articles from CABF members, guest contributors, and news from across our network of shared worship and witness.

As a committee, we have renewed the term of Scott N. Kindred-Barnes to serve as our editor. We wish to share our appreciation for his leadership and commitment excellence in thoughtful and engaging Christian reflection.

Currently, the committee is working to increase the digital distribution of The Bulletin and to review the demand and costs associated with the print version. Those currently receiving multiple print copies will receive a survey from the committee to help us better understand how churches and individuals are using the publication.

All members and member churches will receive both a digital and print version of the Winter 2024 issue where we will be exploring the theme of worship.

As a committee, we are always interested in receiving article submissions and artwork. If you have any questions or suggestions for this publication please reach out to our editor at ministerwolfvillebaptist@gmail.com.

Warmest regards,
Aaron Kenny
